Finally, the summer holiday has come. I went to three camps. All of them were church camps. But the best camp was the third one.

Our church organised a camp. I invited four friends to come: Vinci, Brittany, Sophia and Mochi. They all agreed.

The first day at camp was great. We arrived at the church early. After singing songs, we went to the campsite by coach. We were excited.

After we arrived, we checked our rooms and chose our beds. We all slept on bunk beds. I chose the lower bunk because sometimes I will roll onto the floor.

The next day was sweet!! We had to wake up early because there were big plans ahead of us. We did what we had to do every morning and got ready.

The breakfast was delicious. We ate macaroni. My brother loves macaroni! Sadly, he wasn't big enough to come, and he didn't want to come too.

After breakfast, our teacher told us that there was a gift shop. I wanted to go there, but we didn't have time.

Later, we played games. Those games weren't really fun. I prefer to play tag.

After a while, it was time for dinner. When we saw the food, we were so surprised because they were exactly the same as last night's dinner!

The last day was excellent. I asked my friends if they wanted to go to the gift shop. They agreed. I was so happy!

At the gift shop, there were so many fascinating things inside. I didn't have much left in my Octopus, so I only bought a few cactus candles.

What a wonderful three days and two nights!
