Poetry Focus

“We read and write poetry because we are members of the human race. And the human race is filled with passion... Poetry, beauty, romance, love, these are what we stay alive for.”

– John Keating (played by Robin Williams)

This year, our goal was to introduce our students to a new way to express themselves and connect with each other. Our students are passionate and full of creativity; poetry gives them a new tool to share that while also playing with the English language.

Through this they may learn to appreciate a well-loved and ancient art form that is otherwise missed in day-to-day life.

Our method for doing this varied throughout the year. At first, we wanted to show how creativity can thrive in poetry without the concern for grammar and punctuation that bogs down their views of English and haunts their exams. With that in mind, we started with finger-painting poems where students had to work together to create a painting and then immediately write about their experience.

Next, we focused on displaying the silly but structured side of poetry with limericks. The students were tasked with writing a poem as funny as they could make it and then sharing that aloud with the class.

Of course, we didn't stop there and as you read through this book, you will find many different kinds of poems and ways in which our NPMPS students have found to express themselves and their passions.

Poetry of the Year!

I am a cat.
Meow, Meow
I will scratch you.
Meow, Meow
I will bite you.
Meow, Meow
I can sleep the all night.
- Isaac Yung

The sky tells me so

Time going by, dawn to dusk.
In the morning you see the sun,
At night, you see the moon. Of fact.....
It might be too soon.
To feel over the moon,
Or hated.....as time pasts or stops.....
But every time the planets makes me do.
Whether to fall? When to?
Whether to rise? How to?
Look at the planets and you will know.
Once they told.....
To never give up.
Should I trust.....must I trust?
But I truly believe that one day.....
I might, I may, those are answers,
I couldn't answer till the future.....
as it slowly arrives.
Someday in our lives.....
The very end of the poem.

- Boris

Christmas Poems

Is Santa Here?

Christmas is here,
and presents are under the tree,
it's a time to be thankful,
celebrate and be merry,
we all stay up late,
waiting,
for the jolly old man to come,
Harry was bored, Jill was bored,
and even Lisa was doing sums,
but then.....
we saw him!
But where's his beard?
Where's his boots?
Where's his belt?
That's not Santa,
that's Dad! And he's eating the cookies and milk!

- Hui Shu Ching Charisse

Boys in my class

The boys in my class,
they always laugh at us girls,
and when I try to stop them,
they continue-
it makes me want to have a thing to hurl!

I think of hurling,
running,
yelling,
and the boys jeer, 'Girls aren't focusing!'
At recess, I gather my friends,
they're all girls of course,
so we decide to tell the teacher,
and the boys will feel a lot of remorse!
We hurry to the staff room,
clutching on my dress the hem,
We call the teacher,
but she says, 'Just ignore them!'

Even if it's silly, or just absurd
he runs around, going far

Shampoo, homework, he follows anything I say
He doesn't care what topic, he says it anyway

might shock you
he likes asking people,
'Do you like scary furniture?'
Whatever your answer
he would say,
'Why don't you just buy it, today?'

Between the tick and tock of time,
 We find our dreams, we make them climb.
 From crayons to pens, the years unfold,
 A tapestry of stories told.
 In each line etched, a piece of us,
 Growing up, yet without rush.

- Louis Greg (Between Tick and Tock)
